

Before you collaborate

As the creator of a presentation, you're in charge of who can view and edit your presentation. Before you allow others to edit your presentation, you should consider the following:

- 1. Trust – Do you trust the person with whom you're collaborating?
- 2. Access – Do you want to give them access to all of the content in your presentation?
- 3. Ownership – Do you want to give them the ability to make changes to your presentation?
- 4. Control – Do you want to give them the ability to delete content from your presentation?

When you collaborate on a presentation, you can control who can view and edit your presentation. You can also control who can delete content from your presentation.

```

graph TD
    A[Key values of Transhumanism
New and emerging and possible scenarios] --> B[Long life spans]
    A --> C[Enhanced intelligence]
    A --> D[Postmortal existence]
    A --> E[Immortality for all]
    A --> F[Universal basic income]
    B --> B1[More time to work and to spend with family and friends]
    B --> B2[More time to spend on research and development]
    B --> B3[More time to spend on education and training]
    B --> B4[More time to spend on leisure and recreation]
    C --> C1[More time to work and to spend with family and friends]
    C --> C2[More time to spend on research and development]
    C --> C3[More time to spend on education and training]
    C --> C4[More time to spend on leisure and recreation]
    D --> D1[More time to work and to spend with family and friends]
    D --> D2[More time to spend on research and development]
    D --> D3[More time to spend on education and training]
    D --> D4[More time to spend on leisure and recreation]
    E --> E1[More time to work and to spend with family and friends]
    E --> E2[More time to spend on research and development]
    E --> E3[More time to spend on education and training]
    E --> E4[More time to spend on leisure and recreation]
    F --> F1[More time to work and to spend with family and friends]
    F --> F2[More time to spend on research and development]
    F --> F3[More time to spend on education and training]
    F --> F4[More time to spend on leisure and recreation]

```

Key values of Transhumanism
New and emerging and possible scenarios

- Long life spans
 - More time to work and to spend with family and friends
 - More time to spend on research and development
 - More time to spend on education and training
 - More time to spend on leisure and recreation
- Enhanced intelligence
 - More time to work and to spend with family and friends
 - More time to spend on research and development
 - More time to spend on education and training
 - More time to spend on leisure and recreation
- Postmortal existence
 - More time to work and to spend with family and friends
 - More time to spend on research and development
 - More time to spend on education and training
 - More time to spend on leisure and recreation
- Immortality for all
 - More time to work and to spend with family and friends
 - More time to spend on research and development
 - More time to spend on education and training
 - More time to spend on leisure and recreation
- Universal basic income
 - More time to work and to spend with family and friends
 - More time to spend on research and development
 - More time to spend on education and training
 - More time to spend on leisure and recreation

[illegible]

Group Vision

Start by formulating your ideas when considering a venture or related endeavor you plan. Group of people share your shared purpose, shared vision, shared mission and the ability to achieve it.

Key elements of creating vision, but not shared vision, are:

- Strategic vision
- Concept and characteristics of the organization
- Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage

Strategic vision

- Strategic vision is a long-term and high-level statement of the organization's purpose, mission, and vision.
- Strategic vision is a statement of the organization's purpose, mission, and vision.
- Strategic vision is a statement of the organization's purpose, mission, and vision.
- Strategic vision is a statement of the organization's purpose, mission, and vision.

Concept and characteristics of the organization

- Concept and characteristics of the organization are the elements that define the organization's identity and purpose.
- Concept and characteristics of the organization are the elements that define the organization's identity and purpose.
- Concept and characteristics of the organization are the elements that define the organization's identity and purpose.
- Concept and characteristics of the organization are the elements that define the organization's identity and purpose.

Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage

- Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage is a process of identifying and developing alternative strategies for competitive advantage.
- Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage is a process of identifying and developing alternative strategies for competitive advantage.
- Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage is a process of identifying and developing alternative strategies for competitive advantage.
- Technique for creating alternatives for competitive advantage is a process of identifying and developing alternative strategies for competitive advantage.

Value proposition for target market

- Value proposition for target market is a statement of the organization's value proposition for target market.
- Value proposition for target market is a statement of the organization's value proposition for target market.
- Value proposition for target market is a statement of the organization's value proposition for target market.
- Value proposition for target market is a statement of the organization's value proposition for target market.

Business model for target market

- Business model for target market is a statement of the organization's business model for target market.
- Business model for target market is a statement of the organization's business model for target market.
- Business model for target market is a statement of the organization's business model for target market.
- Business model for target market is a statement of the organization's business model for target market.

Business plan for target market

- Business plan for target market is a statement of the organization's business plan for target market.
- Business plan for target market is a statement of the organization's business plan for target market.
- Business plan for target market is a statement of the organization's business plan for target market.
- Business plan for target market is a statement of the organization's business plan for target market.

[illegible][illegible]